

LRA CONSULTANTS
64 NEW YORK AVE NE, SUITE 100
WASHINGTON, DC 20002
[202] 355-0799
LRAconsultants.com

Mortality Review and Death Investigations Course
Online via Zoom
February 21-22, 2024

LRA Consultants is offering the Mortality Review and Death Investigations course as an online open registration class. This course is a two day program focusing on issues unique to those incidents involving the death of an individual receiving services within the context of an organization's incident management and quality improvement processes. The course addresses the following topics:

- Typologies of death
- The mortality review process and its relationship to incident management and quality improvement
- The relationship of death investigations to the investigation of other serious incidents
- The investigatory question in the context of investigating a death
- Investigative tools when responding to incidents of death
- Explanation: proximate, antecedent and root cause(s) of death
- Special problems in conducting interviews related to death
- Conducting medical reviews
- An introduction to root cause analysis
- Development of a mortality review policy

Class schedule: Morning sessions begin at 9:00 a.m. CST and afternoon sessions at 1:00 p.m. CST. The duration of each half day session will depend on small group activities, but generally will be no longer than 2.5 hours.

Technology: You must attend all sessions of the class via live video in order to receive completion credit. Thus, you must attend using a digital device with video functionality for both full days of the class.

Cost: $375 per person (10% discount on the course fee when an agency registers 3 or more persons)

Class Delivery: This online course will be delivered via Zoom video conferencing and consists of live lectures, small group exercises, and role plays. The course materials will be emailed to participants one week in advance of the class.

Registration: You may register online on our web site at www.LRAconsultants.com Please contact Carolyn Slocum at (512) 289-1854 or carolyn@lraconsultants.com for any questions about registration.

Payment: LRA will accept checks, credit card on our web site (www.LRAconsultants.com), purchase orders and/or vouchers which can be mailed or emailed to us. Make checks payable to: RCM Training and Consulting, LLC, Federal I.D. #87-3798573. If you are paying by credit card at our web site, be sure to submit a registration form first. Please contact Carolyn Slocum at (512) 289-1854 or carolyn@lraconsultants.com for any questions about payment.